

SYLLABUS

First Semester 2012

(February through March)

Martins Run is well known for its lectures, concerts, and active intellectual life. Martins Run University offers a variety of college and university-based lecturers.

Residents and staff have worked together to create an exciting program of lectures. Attached is a syllabus for Martins Run University for the next few months. While it is subject to change, it provides a good overview of the depth and range of the program.

There is a guest charge of $10. There is no fee for Martins Run residents.

Be sure to consult your weekly schedule to confirm the exact dates and times.

ALL LECTURES ARE HELD IN THE MARTINS RUN AUDITORIUM

Martins Run Senior Residential Community

11 Martins Run Media, PA 19063

610-353-7660 www.martinsrun.org

PAGE INTENTIONALLY LEFT BLANK

SYLLABUS – 1st SEMESTER, 2012
(February through March lectures)

Title: Work of an Editor-How an Editor Edits
Lecturer: David Sullivan
Affiliation: Assistant Managing Editor, The Philadelphia Inquirer
Summary: What do editors at a newspaper do and just how many types of them are
Date/Time: Tuesday, February 7, 2012, 7:00pm

Title: Lights Along the Schulykill - The Houses of Fairmont Park
Lecturer: Bob Brooke
Affiliation: Award-winning author, publisher, and teacher
Summary: Take a tour through several of the historic houses of Fairmont Park, the largest municipal park in the world, to see what life was like in the latter part of the 18th century in Philadelphia and the intrigues brought about by the Revolutionary War.
Date/Time: Wednesday, February 22, 2012, 7:00pm

Title: Falling and the Fear of Falling: Part II
Lecturer: Dr. Bryan Kim
Affiliation: University of Pennsylvania
Summary: Continuation from Part I in regards to prevention and information about falling and the fear of falling
Date/Time: Monday, February 29, 2012, 7:00pm

Title: “The Maestro, Leonard Bernstein: The Life and Career”
Lecturer: Dr. Moylan Mills
Affiliation: Penn State University
Summary: The real story of the life and works of Leonard Bernstein
Date/Time: Thursday, March 29, 2012, 1:30pm

Martins Run Senior Residential Community

11 Martins Run Media, PA 19063

610-353-7660 www.martinsrun.org